"Cases in which registered persons have lost their registration certificates have come to the attention of this office. In, such cases the registration board which has the card of such person should, upon application, verify the fact of application, and, upon proper evidence of good faith, give a written statement signed by the clerk setting forth the lact of registration, the name of the person registered, the date and number of the registration card and a statement to the effect that evidence has been submitted proving the loss of the registration certificate. This course seems preciable to the issue of a double certificate.

Secretary Lansing Says No Action by America Has Been Taken, Either Directly or Indirectly.

Secretary Lansing today emphatically enied reports published in the Chinese ress that the United States was sup-ording the revolutionary movement press that the United States was supporting the revolutionary movement there, and had even furnished funds for it. The Secretary said:

"My attention has been called to certain charges in far eastern papers that this country was supporting the revolutionary movement in China and had even furnished large sums of money for its aid. This is absolutely false. The United States has taken no action toward the revolution of any sort. America's great and constant interest in China, as with all friendly nations, is the prevalence of good order and domestic tranquillity."

Secretary Lansing said he had no idea

Both President Li and Premier Tuan Both President Li and Premier Tuan were opposed to the severance with Germany at first, but Tuan for some reason unknown changed his mind, won over his cabinet and finally, after resigning and leaving Tientsin, was reinstated and won over the president and parliament. Secretary Lansing said he had no idea upon what the charges were based, but that he deplored them for creating a false impression of this country's good will toward China.

It is thought possible, however, that the Chinese press may have become confused over the attitude of Minister Reinsch, in Peking, who has been in a very difficult position ever since the United States severed relations

Stores Everywhere-One Near Your Home.-Careful buying is the first step toward economy. If you want all sorts of service you've got to pay for it. Some people delude themselves into the idea that service is "free," and then wonder when the monthly grocery bill comes in why the cost of living is so high and where the man got the nerve to charge such robber prices.

Everybody who works around a grocery store gets paid for doing so, and the consumer is the one who pays the bill. The time is coming-and, in our opinion, very soon-when there will be just two kinds of grocery stores-one where you can get any sort of service you want, if you can pay for it; the other a store where all expensive service is eliminated and the business reduced to a strictly cash-over-the-counter proposition.

Our experience with eighty-six (86) stores, with a strictly cash, no delivery, no telephone, or other service, proves to us very conclusively that we are serving our myriads of patrons in the way they prefer to be served under conditions as at present existing. New arrivals in Washington are urged to investigate at our nearest store.

Federal Bureau Asks American Institute to Name Committee.

The American Iron and Steel Institute was asked by the Department of Commerce today to name a committee to allot pig tin in the United States. The British government has assured this country that its shippers will observe any regulations by such a committee.

An announcement today by the Department of Commerce said that by August I tin plate manufacturers will be in position to furnish can-makers with all the tin they need.

All supplies of tin have been cut off from users for containers of varnish, blacking, paint, tale, soups, baked beans and various ready-to-eat foods, so that the tin may be used for cans in which perishable food can be packed. No releases of cans to packers of non-perishable products will be made until it is certain that the supply for perishables is ample.
